

Project update – Dinmore

Dinmore has become a hub of activity in recent months as the project works towards constructing important road connections and improving pedestrian and cyclist facilities.

Warrego Highway

The Warrego Highway connection is progressing well with traffic soon to be on the new eastbound bridge. Both of the Warrego Highway bridges will open by early next year to two lanes of traffic.

Cunningham Highway

Works are underway on the new eastbound Cunningham Highway bridge over Brisbane Road, with bridge beams recently lifted into place. The project aims to complete this connection to the Ipswich Motorway by early 2012.

Dinmore pedestrian bridge

The construction of the new Dinmore pedestrian bridge across Brisbane Road is starting to take shape. Works will continue until early next year as the project installs the anti-throw screens, railings and lights and paints the structure. As a part of finishing works, the parks on either side of the bridge will be extensively landscaped.

New service road

Along Aberdare Street, just south of the Cunningham Highway bridges, is the new connection to the southern service road. Signals are currently being installed and retaining wall works near Acirl Street, Riverview are continuing. Works will be ongoing in this location until November with the connection expected to open between Aberdare Street, Dinmore and Endeavour Road, Riverview by early next year.

Brisbane Road intersection

The Brisbane Road intersection upgrade works have begun and will continue until the end of October. This upgrade includes extending the existing turning lane on Brisbane Road (Brisbane bound), installing new lighting, telecommunications conduits, pram ramps and improving pedestrian and cyclist access.

The major works in the Dinmore area are expected to be completed around mid 2012. Finishing and minor works will then continue until project completion in late 2012.
