

Traffic changes – Riverview

Endeavour Road connection opens

From mid April 2011, the new Endeavour Road connection at Riverview will open to both traffic and pedestrians. The connection will provide a vital cross-motorway link for the Riverview community tying into the future northern and southern service roads.

Motorists will be able to use existing local streets to access Endeavour Road until the service roads are completed towards the end of 2011.

The Endeavour Road connection will provide pedestrians and cyclists with wide and well-lit walkways. Landscaping on both sides of the connection and a park seat on Esther Street will be included in the finishing works.

Important information

In early May, the Tessman Street overpass and the Brisbane bound on-ramp to the Ipswich Motorway at Riverview will permanently close.

Motorists heading towards Brisbane will need to use the on-ramps from the Warrego Highway at Riverview, Brisbane Road at Dinmore or Francis Street at Redbank (see map on the reverse of flyer for alternative routes).

Detour signage will be in place to direct traffic.

Preparation works to remove the existing Tessman Street overpass will be undertaken during May and construction of the new Tessman Street pedestrian bridge will begin.

All works are subject to weather and construction conditions.
