

Ride easy with new rules

I can now ride across zebra crossings, as long as I stop and make sure it's safe to do so first. It's still ok to ride on a footpath too.

It's now optional for me to ride in a bicycle lane.

From 1 January 2015, road rules will change to make your ride safer and easier.

Motorists, remember to stay wider of the rider and have a little patience for your fellow road user as they follow these rules.

I can now ride on a single lane roundabout like any other road user.

To find out more, visit www.qld.gov.au and search 'Bicycle road rules'.